

METTE VESTERGAARD HUSS

ATTORNEY OF THE DANISH HIGH COURTS, PARTNER

Mette Vestergaard Huss is primarily specialized in commercial contracts, data protection and IT/IP law. In this relation Mette advises many Danish and international clients on commercial matters, regulatory matters, infringement proceedings and contract negotiations. The clients vary greatly but the team and Mette Vestergaard Huss are particularly experienced in SaaS, Paas and IT development agreements and have specialist knowledge of the production conditions in respect of cosmetics, pharmaceuticals and specialist industries with specialized development activities.

In addition, Mette advises on data protection law and compliance in which area she has particularly great insight into the challenges faced by small and large associations meaning that the advice matches the client's scope and funds. Mette Vestergaard Huss also acts as regular external DPO with companies and associations. In this relation, she has also developed specialist knowledge of whistle-blower hotlines, including their set-up and operation, and advice on the challenges that notifications may provide.

Mette Vestergaard Huss' advisory approach is pragmatic, commercial and solution oriented. She combines this approach with a high degree of structure and as a result she implements large projects in the clients' organisations based on the approach that good project management ensures the best solution for the client in all projects irrespective of whether it is contract management or compliance with data protection law that is to be ensured.

Mette speaks English and the Scandinavian languages.
